Cape Town, South Africa
The program will provide students with an international business perspective on the Healthcare industry in South Africa and will include company visits in and around Cape Town and guest lectures at the University in Cape Town. A visit to Robben Island, where Nelson Mandela was imprisoned, and to a Township will acquaint students to the history of Apartheid in South Africa and its impact on healthcare.

Why South Africa?
As Africa’s largest and most developed economy, the Republic of South Africa serves as the international gateway to the Sub-Saharan region. While South Africa possesses a number of competitive assets, the country also presents major challenges to globally active businesses.
