Market Science is Hiring!

Market Science is excited to announce that we will be hiring a number of new people to join our team for the upcoming season (May-October)! See below for position descriptions and details.

Market Science Graduate Coordinator

We are recruiting a 50% summer graduate student to serve as the Market Science Program Coordinator for the 2022 season. The person filling this position will be responsible for providing material and training support for researchers wanting to perform science communication and outreach. They will work with stakeholders inside and outside of the University to execute quality outreach programs that are matched between researchers and venues and provide logistical expertise. If interested, please contact Seth Thompson (thom2587@umn.edu) for a full position description.

Curriculum Leaders

We are also hiring a team of student (graduate or undergraduate) curriculum leaders. These positions will be paid on an hourly basis with an expectation of ~5 hours of work per week. Each student will be expected to create and deliver hands-on learning materials throughout the summer. If interested, contact Seth Thompson (thom2587@umn.edu) with a statement of interested and a resume to apply.

Application review will begin on April 15th and continue until positions are filled.
